Deadly Formula of Federalism in Iraq

On October 12th, 2006 Baghdad's parliament passed federalism legislation in Iraq, and Western nations welcome the news as a good news for Iraq. However, Sarbazan predicated about catastrophic outcome of federalism in Iraq, and no one was willing to listen to Sarbazan's advice. Interestingly, there are some individuals like Kenneth R. Timmerman, who endorses political apparatus of Federalism Formula for Iran.

In past, Sarbazan warned public about deadly outcome of Federalism in Iraq and predicated that in this equation of federalism in Iraq "which is going to be harmful for the Middle East region stability, which is the Kurdistan region in Iraq. The Kurds in Iraq will declare their independence and want to cherish their new found nation with neighbor Kurds, and the Iraqi Kurds will call upon other Kurdish people to join them. The Kurds will chant of independence in Iraq out loud so the other Kurds could hear them, this chant of independence will motivate other Kurds to join Iraqi Kurds and calling for unification of Kurdistan, which will spread quickly in countries like Iran, Turkey, and Syria. Obviously, the clerics in Iran have an expansion agenda and will suppress any opposition voice without any second thought. Turkey will be left with a monumental tragedy on their hands."¹ Briefly examining above prediction with today's reality, recently German authority is having difficulty to keep good relation with Turkey and Iran due to "a new Kurdish party, the PJAK, is causing Germany's intelligence agencies concern. Public prosecutors are investigating whether the group, whose leader lives in Cologne, is a terrorist organization."² In 2004, PJAK was incepted which "has close ties with the successor organization to the banned Kurdish separatist group, the PKK, and now operates a militia in northern Iraq. PJAK troops have repeatedly launched operations inside Iranian territory and, according to the Kurdish group more than 100 Iranian soldiers have been killed in the clashes.”³ It means more blood will be spill in future, the cleric regime in Iran will launch massive attack on rebels.

There are some individuals like Kenneth R. Timmerman, who is endorsing political apparatus of federalism for Iran and in past Timmerman approached Shirin NESHAT to convince her to participate in Paris Conference which was organized by some individuals who were endorsing federalism for Iran. NESHAT turned down the invitation and was outraged by whole idea of inviting her to the Paris Conference. Shirin NESHAT is daughter of Major-General Ali NESHAT, who paid ultimate price for Iran, and would not participate in any kind of event which is about disintegrating Iran, and those obscure entities are taking cover under banner of federalism.

Behrouz SOURE ISRAFIL invited NESHAT to his television program and asked her to narrator her side of the story to the public about turning down Timmerman’s invitation to the Paris Conference. It came down to this point that Timmerman, who have no knowledge about political culture of Iran; he has been endeavoring to give political advice to Iranian expatriates on how to confront the cleric establishment, in Iran, in the name of federalism.

Kenneth R. Timmerman is not right kind of person to give political advice to anyone, he has been accused of yellow journalism in his relation with WMD in Iraq⁴ {yellow journalism means “is a pejorative reference to journalism that features scandal mongering, sensationalism, or other unethical or unprofessional practices by news media organizations or journalists. It has been loosely defined as “not quite libel.”}⁵ Timmerman is also Founder and President of Foundation for Democracy in Iran and “his opinions have little influence in the Iranian Diasporas.”⁶

Last thought, Sarbazan published an article and a book and predicted on issue of federalism in Iraq as a deadly formula for Iraqi people, and compromising stability of Middle East, and today it has been proven beyond doubt federalism would not work in Iraq. There are individuals like Timmerman, who is envisioning federalism for Iran. Already, federalism failed in Iraq why should anyone think federalism would work for Iran? The question of federalism is not up to Timmerman or his associates. The question of federalism needs to be decided by Iranian people, after total removal of the theology state in Iran. In the main time, let’s allocate resources in right places to remove the Islamic Republic of occupier of Iran.
