Dear Major-General Rohani:

RE: Universal Law of Flag

Reza Pahlavi—uniting the past and the future.

Since, you have been standing before camera with a proud uniform of Imperial Iranian Air Force and speaking to Iranian people as a commanding officer to revolt against establishment in Iran. You have decided to place flag of Iran on your left hand side which is opposing universal law of flag. The universal law of flag dictates flag of a nation to be on right hand side of a dignitary. This universal law of flag would apply to any leader of a nation or anyone who would like to stand beside the flag as a symbol of a nation. Also, there are several pictures attached to this letter which are illustrating flag of nations are located on right hand side of dignitaries, and only a pin would be on left side of a dignitary which is close by her/his heart.

You decided to be a commander of this nationalist uprising in Iran in order to remove the cleric regime in Iran, and other members of Imperial Iranian Armed Forces would judge you base on your knowledge of respecting the flag. When the above individuals found you not respecting the flag, it would be difficult to earn their respect and loyalty to follow your command to perform their duty for Iran. Also, it would become some kind of ammunition for adversary to use this occasion to distract course of this action.

Therefore, the universal law of flag which is proven by above picture of dignitaries from different part of world that flag would be on right hand side of a dignitary and only pin would be on her/his left side. It is about following the rule.
